3 | REVERENCE For a youth to become the best possible citizen, the Boy Scouts of America recognizes an obligation to God as well as the religious element in member training. This nonsectarian guideline is an excellent resource for interfaith—Christian, Jewish and Muslim—worship, encouraging members to strengthen their own relationship with God through personal prayer, and to set examples for others through their conduit. It also provides information on the religious emblems program. 34248 3.99
